Administration's Message

We are thrilled to welcome everyone new and returning to Kenner Intermediate for the 2018/19 school year. We hope that all families have had a great summer and built fond memories through new experiences. The staff are very excited to see new and familiar faces and look forward to getting to know all the students in the months ahead.

While there will be a variety of digital tools used in classrooms this year, one we would like to highlight once again is a piece of software called Edsby. This software tool allows for communication between teachers, students, and families. It is used by many teachers to report progress and give feedback to students. It allows teachers to assign individual work to students and enables students and parents to track their growth. Families that are new to our school will be receiving access information shortly through an email invitation. In order to do so, it is necessary for the school office to have your email address on file, which can be included when returning the student verification form that has been sent home. Once we have collected these, you will receive an invitation to register if you have not already done so. Please look for an Edsby invitation in your email shortly.

As we embark upon a new year together, families are encouraged to review Kenner Intermediate's Code of Conduct policies, which have been posted on our school website and Edsby pages. We have also reviewed these items with students at our welcome assembly, so each learner should have a clear understanding of our expectations while at school and during school activities. Please note that every student is expected to participate in all activities during the school day. We will be emphasizing the theme "Opting Out is Not an Option" in our conversations with students as a reminder that all activities, ranging from physical education to class trips should be fully attended.

We understand that it is a busy time of year, but if anyone has questions or concerns, do not hesitate to make contact with the Kenner school office. We are all active in the students' lives and are working towards building a successful and enjoyable year for all learners. If you need to come into the school during the day please use the front door, as the others will be locked once classes begin.

FREE KPR Parent Conference October 20

Mental Health, Math & Modern Learning is the theme for this year's Parent Conference, taking place Saturday, October 20 at Bowmanville High School. New this year are workshops that parents and guardians will be able to attend together with their children or teens. Keynote speaker Dr. Greg Wells will start the morning conference with a presentation titled The Ripple Effect: Sleep, Think, Eat and Move Better. As always, the conference also will offer a choice of practical workshops, child minding, refreshments and take-home resources – all at no charge. Stay tuned for more information and registration details later in September at www.kprschools.ca

Health and Physical Education Curriculum

We wanted to provide an update on the Health and Physical Education Curriculum for the coming school year. As you know, the government has announced a broad public consultation on this issue. While this consultation is underway, the Ministry of Education has re-issued the 2010 Health and Physical Education Curriculum for elementary students. Secondary students will continue to receive the curriculum broadly revised and introduced in 2015.

We know that our teachers and school support staff are well-trained professionals who will continue to be committed to supporting the well-being and healthy development of students. We are also obligated by legislation to follow the provincially approved curriculum. Our teachers are highly professional, and will teach the curriculum in a developmental and age appropriate manner as they have always done.

As with any question you may have about anything related to your child's learning, the best place to start is with their classroom teacher. These conversations can strengthen positive relationships between parents and teachers, and resolve concerns at the level closest to the issue.
